Outline

Managing University Life (Surviving KAC) is meant to equip Keimyung Adams students with basic college survival skills required to be successful and productive students. The course will cover a variety of topics including Active Reading and Learning, Researching and Note Taking, Time Management, Multiple Intelligences, Examination and Study Skills, Interpersonal Relations, and Employment Preparation.

Class Rules

This course is offered online at <http://keneckert.com/kac> and mirrored at <http://ghall.me> and YouTube. Students will meet in the classroom only three times: the first class (Mar 4), the midterm exam (Apr 22), and the final exam (June 10). Normal attendance rules will apply: very late students will be marked absent, and sick notes must be given within seven days.

Textbook

No textbook. Class materials will be available online for downloading and viewing or printing.

Evaluation

- a. Mid-term exam: 25%
- b. Final exam: 25%
- c. Weekly assignments: 50%

Weekly assignments must be e-mailed to Prof. Hall by the deadlines listed. Assignments not received after deadlines will not be accepted and will receive zero. Students who habitually copy other students' work will also be failed.

Managing University Life is 1-credit, Pass/Fail. Please don't assume you can do nothing and pass. In Spring 2010 this course had the highest failure rate in the English program and resulted in numerous scholarship cancellations.
